Where dreams come true

The Year of a Million Dreams marks a first-of-its-kind celebration of the individual dreams of Disney Guests.
Passholders know that Walt Disney World® Resort is where dreams come true. It’s the heart of Disney, and you’ll soon see that expressed through new music, verse and images (like the one on the front cover).

To unveil our Where Dreams Come True artistry—and announce new excitement during The Year of a Million Dreams—a private, “Dream Gallery” was created in New York City.

Journey through the Dream Gallery

The first sight was the Disneyland® plaque written by Walt Disney himself: “Here you leave today and enter the world of yesterday, tomorrow and fantasy.” One wall glowed with guest home movies. Another shone with kids’ letters to Disney Characters. A sculptor fashioned Disney sandcastles. A painter rendered Mickey Mouse on canvas. Attending were celebrities, journalists—and even two Disney Passholders.

Passholders Mike and Carol Scopa loved that everything focused on the magic between Guests and Cast Members. “I can walk through a Disney Park and the Cast Members say, ‘Hi Mike! How’s it goin’?’” said Mike. “They really go all out for us.”

More dreams on the way

Disney Destinations President Jay Rasulo announced new attractions and shows (including those on the next page), and a year in which Disney Cast Members will help dreams—of all shapes and sizes—come true for guests.

“We always make friends with Cast Members on every visit,” added Carol. “They’re going to be excited to make new dreams come true this year!”
Nemo’s been found … in a great new attraction

Wondering what happened after Marlin, Dory and the undersea gang found Nemo? Starting this October, the whole family will enjoy finding out at The Seas with Nemo & Friends—a new Epcot® adventure inspired by Disney’s presentation of Pixar’s Finding Nemo.

Your “clamobile” will glide you and the kids through an “immersive” environment where an original story takes up where the movie left off. “The new story is that Nemo is happily exploring his world,” Alex Wright of Walt Disney Imagineering told us. “Marlin and Dory—and all of us—are trying to keep up with the little guy.”

“We’ll start off by running into Mr. Ray’s field trip—he’s taking the other little fish for their daily exploration. Every time Dory sees Nemo, but she keeps forgetting and can’t tell Marlin.” The attraction is brimming with memorable moments. “When you encounter the jellyfish, they’ll light up as Dory bounces over them,” Alex adds. “There’ll be a pretty scene where everyone’s mesmerized by the lights of the anglerfish. And when the sharks pop out from the ruins and tease you, they claim they have no intention of eating Marlin, though he doesn’t quite believe them.”

The most amazing part of the new attraction will occur when your clamobile enters the gigantic aquarium where Nemo and all his friends will appear to actually swim alongside the real-life creatures of the coral reef.

The fun continues with the totally awesome Turtle Talk With Crush, also inspired by Disney’s presentation of Pixar’s Finding Nemo, where Guests or kids can ask questions of the gnarly dude of the deep, as well as a whole ocean of interactive exhibits featuring Nemo’s pals.

DON’T MISS THE PASSHOLDER PREVIEW!
You can look forward to a special Passholder Preview of The Seas with Nemo & Friends before the official Grand Opening. We’ll announce the dates and details soon, so be sure you’re registered at disneyworld.com/passholder. If you haven’t registered yet, or need to update your profile, visit now!
The theater was home to Tarzan Rocks!, and Journey Into the Jungle Book stage shows, but now will be entirely enclosed and air-conditioned with enhanced lighting and other effects.

SECRET

Theater in the Wild at Disney’s Animal Kingdom® Theme Park will become a magical undersea world—as well as an indoor theater—when Finding Nemo—The Musical splashes down in late 2006.

Inspired by Disney’s presentation of Pixar’s Finding Nemo, the new Broadway-caliber show combines the talents of Walt Disney Creative Entertainment, Walt Disney Imagineering, and a team of Tony Award® winners, plus astonishing puppetry, effects and acrobatics.

“Our master puppeteer is Michael Curry, who you know from The Lion King on Broadway and Tapestry of Nations at Epcot®,” said Disney show producer Taz Marosi. “For the first time, we’re not hiding the puppeteers. At various times, you’ll see the actor, the puppet, and both of them together.”

At the heart of it all will be warm, witty new songs by Tony winner Robert Lopez that will add even more dimension to the story you loved in the film.

When Marlin advises his son Nemo to avoid danger, he sings, “We swim out, we swim back in!” This leads to “Big Blue World,” which is sure to become a classic.

Our favorite forgetful fish trills her own “Dory’s Ditty,” Toe-tapping sharks belt out “Fish Are Friends, Not Food.” Little lost Nemo sings the plaintive, “Where’s My Dad?” Dory’s advice in song to Marlin is “Just Keep Swimming.” And it’s beach party time when Crush’s nest of turtle dudes rock to “Go With the Flow.”

The Ultimate “ladies weekend!”

Super Soap Weekend comes to Disney-MGM Studios

After years of fun with her girlfriends at ABC Super Soap Weekend® presented by Colgate® Total®—which you can enjoy this November 11 & 12—Katherine Laguna actually decided to become a Disney Cast Member.

“That’s the reason,” the 19-year-old Disney-MGM Studios hostess told us. “I love this park because they have the event here!”

Over the years, Katherine and her girlfriends have bonded with fellow fans, shared laugh-filled memories and met daytime stars.

“It’s just so much fun,” she said. “We like to get up early and plan the whole day together—what stars we might meet, all the events to do—and we have a great time. We can get pretty silly, too!”

You can see many stars at once in the motorcade down Hollywood Boulevard. You may even get to act in scenes with TV hunks and divas at I Wanna Be a Soap Star, plus see interviews and previews at the Wide World Of Soaps Live! Talk Show.

“The Street Jam is like a big nighttime finale,” she explained. “The stars sing, dance and let loose. They put on a great show.”

Sharing the soaptacular fun bridges generations, too. Karen Foster of Plano, Texas, loves sharing the Weekend with her lovely daughter, Amy. “I first heard of it in a soap magazine. And we flew out —just the girls—for a long weekend.”

Karen also recommends a Disney Resort stay: “Then you plan on being there when the gates open and do as much as you can.”

“I look forward to seeing new faces every year,” Karen smiles. “And catching up with the old ones, too!”

Find out more at abc.com, disneyworld.com/supersoapweekend or at the ABC Super Soap Weekend Hotline Recording at 407-397-6808.
To honor over two decades of delighting more than 900,000 attendees and over 110 top Christian music artists, Night of Joy recently received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Gospel Music Association. And it gets more extraordinary every year.

Friday, September 8 and Saturday, September 9, 2006, from 7:30 p.m.–12:30 a.m.*, you can share music and fun—and select Magic Kingdom® attractions—under the heavens themselves.

“I actually grew up going to Night of Joy,” said Mike Scheuchzer of MercyMe, whose song, “I Can Only Imagine,” has become a huge hit. “I grew up in Bartow, Florida. Never in a million years did I think I would get to do music for a living, and get to play the same places as [artists] I had looked up to. And then last year we played in front of [Cinderella] Castle—I couldn’t believe it!

“The entire family comes out, from kids to grandparents. For us, seeing all of them worshipping God together is a really cool thing.”

Also back is Rebecca St. James, Dove Award winner for her work on The Chronicles of Narnia CD, inspired by the Oscar®-winning Disney/Walden film (and #1 DVD of the year).

“Disney is a real treat for me,” she told us. “I remember the first year that I performed at Night of Joy I was in Tomorrowland®. It was such a cool experience!”

Passholder advance single-night Night of Joy tickets are just $34.95 plus tax (a $5.00 savings). If you buy tickets on the day of the event, they’re $44.95 plus tax. Two-night tickets are $67.95 plus tax. Both nights sell out fast, though, so call 407-560-PASS (7277) or visit disneyworld.com/passholder now.
Get your taste buds ready. It’s back and better than ever.

We’re marking the 11th anniversary of the Epcot® International Food & Wine Festival, and to celebrate, we’re dialing up the fun to “eleven.”

This year the Festival is themed around exploring regional flavors with food, wine and beer marketplaces representing more than 25 different countries and regions.

See demonstrations, sample wines and shop for exclusive merchandise at the Festival Center. And once you’ve wined and dined to your heart’s content, you can sit back and enjoy great music at our Eat to the Beat concert series!

But how do you make sure you’re making the most of this gastronomic gala? We spoke with Festival developers and learned a few tips.

Epcot International Food & Wine Festival

SEPTEMBER 29 - NOVEMBER 12, 2006

Tip #1 — Make it easy. Use the card.

New this year, Food & Wine Festival locations, including the marketplaces, will accept Disney Gift Cards as a form of payment. How’s that for easy? The Disney Gift Card can be purchased at Walt Disney World® Resort merchandise locations, ticket booths, and at the Food & Wine Festival Center.

To learn more about the Disney Gift Card, please visit DisneyGiftCard.com.

EAT TO THE BEAT CONCERT SERIES

Enjoy great live music from some of the biggest names around at America Gardens Theatre. Concert times are 5:45, 7:00 & 8:15 p.m. every night of the Festival.

Survivor

Family Stone Experience

Starship Featuring Mickey Thomas

Loverboy

David Sanborn

The Beach Boys

Little Richard

Three Dog Night

The Four Tops

Gloria Gaynor

The S.O.S. Band

The Contours

Chubby Checker & the Wildcats

Southside Johnny

Jon Secada

Tip #2 — Beer lovers rejoice!

So maybe you don’t know the difference between a Bordeaux and a claret*, but love a good lager. No worries. Beer aficionados will be pleased to taste more than 30 varieties of beer and attend any of 100 beer seminars offered throughout the Festival.

(A Bordeaux is a claret.)

Tip #3 — Be a teetotaler

Are wine and beer not your cup of tea? Check out our complimentary tea seminars and learn from a master brewer where the best tea leaves are grown and how they are transformed to make the perfect cup!

Seminars hosted by Twinings® take place every Festival Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 11:30 a.m., 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, and 3:30 p.m. Just go to the United Kingdom Pavilion, behind the Twinings Tea Caddy in the courtyard.

Entertainment subject to change without notice.

Epcot International Food & Wine Festival explores new regional flavors

Your Mickey Monitor was on the scene last April, when stars and conservationists gathered for the official Expedition Everest™ grand opening.

The teen scene
The new attraction offered lots of thrills. But at least some of the goosebumps were due to the stars of the Disney Channel movie High School Musical who explored Disney’s Animal Kingdom® Theme Park.

Fans also spotted R&B group B5 (who appear on the #1 hit High School Musical soundtrack album) as they got in on the Expedition Everest excitement.

“You have to get on this,” said Dustin Breeding, eldest brother of Kelly, Patrick, Carmell and Bryan. “There’s a surprise on there that you won’t forget, my friend!”

Aly and AJ’s Everest adventures
“It’s amazing,” said Hollywood Records pop star Aly. “You go up this huge hill and then you stop. Then you go backwards in the dark!”

“And the Yeti—he rips up the track and the whole car shakes,” her sister AJ continued. “It’s so cool! You’ve got to get here and check it out!”

Celebrating conservation
Disney also saluted the Disney Conservation Wildlife Fund, which, with the help of Disney Guests, has raised and distributed more than $10 million to help 450 wildlife projects worldwide since the Disney’s Animal Kingdom opening in 1998.

Visit disneyeverest.com for more Expedition Everest comments from celebrities, and disneyworld.com/passholder for more Passholder comments.

Mickey’s annual Magic Kingdom Halloween event is now bigger than ever!

If you haven’t been to Mickey’s Not-So-Scary Halloween Party, you’re in for a (trick or) treat. It’s turned into one of our most popular Disney events.

According to entertainment producer, Laura Offerdahl, this year’s MNSSHP (as Disney insiders call it) is even better than ever. “We’ve had so much fun dreaming up the Halloween parade. This year, we’re very excited about a whimsical new candy factory float at the end. It features Goofy ruling over his own candy squad.”

Laura also told us of new “treat trails” that let Guests trick-or-treat with Disney characters. There’s also a production in which the villains take over the castle stage then mix and mingle with the Guests.

Of course, visitors can trick-or-treat for candy throughout the park and enjoy popular Magic Kingdom® attractions. This year also marks the return of Disney’s one-of-a-kind Halloween fireworks show. It’s incredible! As always, Guests are welcome to arrive decked out in costume—many of the Disney characters will be dressed in theirs.

Tickets are now available for one of 18 nights of family-friendly Halloween fun. The annual Magic Kingdom event takes place from 7 p.m. to midnight on September 15, 22, 29, October 2, 5, 6, 10, 12, 16, 17, 19, 20, 23, 24, 26, 27, 30 & 31.

To purchase tickets, call 407-560-PASS (7277). For more information, visit disneyworld.com/passholder.

Admission to Mickey’s Not-So-Scary Halloween Party is not included in any other type of admission media. Tickets valid only during specific dates and hours. Entertainment subject to change without notice.

Ages 3-9 $25.95 plus tax
Every strand of hair is treated with skill and care. Cute Character-shaped accessories are woven in, as well.

8-year-old Passholder Princess Renee Surma was gracious enough to allow us to observe her lavish royal treatment at Bibbidi Bobbidi Boutique, part of the new Princess Room at the World of Disney® store. A special “Cool Dude Hero” treatment was also offered to 5-year-old John. “We just wanted John to feel part of the experience,” said mom Rue Ann. “They said they could do his hair with some gel. So he got some gel, glitter, and confetti—and they did a little emblem with a little rhinestone design for his cheek.”

The “Fairy-Godmother-in-training” adds lovely lip gloss... ...and a little color for her royal bibbidi bobbidi brows.

...and adorned with her own sparkling, jewel-encrusted crown. A shimmering sash will soon follow.

The most magical moment comes when the Princess is turned around in her chair and sees the wondrous results. All of us got a little misty-eyed as Renee smiled sweetly at her royal reflection. “I think it looks cool,” Renee said. “I really like it...I feel awesome!” Spoken like a true Disney Princess.

This is just part of the new World of Disney excitement. There’s also a new Adventure Room, where you can Create Your Own Pirate Hat, Fill Your Own Treasure Chest, and even Create Your Own Pirate Skull!

NOTE: Bibbidi Bobbidi Boutique seatings are limited, so call 407-WDW-STYLE (939-7895) up to 180 days in advance.
Disney-MGM Studios is THE place where you can meet and greet today’s top characters from movies and television every day! Pick up a Times Guide at the Disney-MGM Studios entrance or merchandise areas to find specific times to get autographs and photos of these friends.

In addition to all the meetin’ and greetin’, you can also be eatin’ with favorites like Little Einsteins when you Play ’N Dine at Hollywood & Vine. Call 407-560-PASS (7277) for breakfast or lunch reservations.

Does this Theme Park have character, or what?

Festival of the Masters boasts over 200 award-winning artists

Disney’s Festival of the Masters, presented by Sharpie®, ranked among the country’s top outdoor art festivals, is back at the Downtown Disney® area November 10, 11 and 12.

This year, it will boast more than 200 fine artists who have all earned a primary award in a juried art festival in the last few years.

You’ll also be treated to special entertainment. Watch the European tradition, chalk art, come to life on Downtown Disney Marketplace sidewalks. There’s the 8th Annual House of Blues® Folk Art Festival, plus live music and children’s activities throughout the Downtown Disney area.

Of course, event merchandise will be on sale—posters, shirts, pins and more, all featuring the signature Festival of the Masters art.
