MONSTERS, INC. LAUGH FLOOR

Meet the crazy new cast creating the latest Magic Kingdom fun, inspired by Disney•Pixar’s “Monsters, Inc.”
There may be a little monster in all of us. (Well, maybe there’s more in some folks than others.) After all, monsters have feelings, and they love to laugh. Maybe that’s why when you enter the Monsters, Inc. Laugh Floor, inspired by Disney•Pixar’s “Monsters, Inc.”, you’ll feel as if you’re meeting old friends, or at least creatures that remind you of old friends.

Remember the friend who always had a goofball joke for any occasion, but was a little short on brainpower? He or she was a lot like this purple pal. This is the warm-up monster for the show, getting everyone ready for the comic hijinks as everyone enters the club. A regular monster-of-all-trades, this creature likes to ask questions and even dabbles in mind reading. (If only it was book reading!)

When it comes to comedy, sometimes two heads are better than one. That’s why this monster is trying to break into show business. The only trouble is that both heads don’t always agree and the resulting fireworks could rival the ones above Cinderella Castle. No matter how silly these two heads can get, they’re made for each other—it’s a match made in Monstropolis.

And speaking of Monstropolis, the entire city will be powered by the laughter generated by these wacky weirdos. It’s all the illuminating idea of “Monster of Ceremonies” Mike Wazowski, who is on hand to make sure the fun and chuckles keep coming. And of course, Roz is always nearby to add her own monstrous brand of vivacious charm.

Plus, although Mike insists it has nothing to do with nepotism, somehow his nephew Marty is also getting a shot at stardom. Sort of a mini-Mike, Marty loves to talk about school stuff, household chores, sibling challenges and other relevant issues—and he’s sure to become a favorite to the kids who visit the new attraction, especially since they may be talking together during the show!

One thing to keep in mind however: The monsters in this crazy attraction are subject to change without notice. Depending on which show you see, they may be green, orange, blue, or plaid. There may even be a new monster that comes out of nowhere. Anything can happen at the Monsters, Inc. Laugh Floor, and as many of you discovered at the fun-filled Passholder Preview, it usually does!

Mike Wazowsk and company invite you to power the city of Monstropolis with chuckles.
Stars play out Disney Park fantasies in new Annie Leibovitz photos

Photography featuring Scarlett Johansson, Beyoncé and David Beckham brings The Year of a Million Dreams to life.

You may have already seen these spectacular photos in the pages of Vanity Fair, GQ, Vogue and other magazines. Created to help launch Disney’s The Year of a Million Dreams celebration at Disney Parks, the signature style of acclaimed photographer Annie Leibovitz is evident in every shot.

“I’m really delighted to be part of the ‘Where Dreams Come True’ campaign,” said Leibovitz. “We live in difficult times and I feel, especially as a parent, that keeping dreams alive is one of the most important things we can do.”

In this shot featuring David Beckham appearing as Prince Philip from Sleeping Beauty, Leibovitz digitally constructed the moment using both a real horse and a mechanical one. The action was captured by a lake in Madrid, where Beckham had been playing soccer for the team, Real Madrid.

“There were many Disney Characters I liked as a kid,” said Beckham. “Now my sons love the Disney Characters and it’s a big part of their lives, a big part of many children’s lives around the world. So to be part of that is an honor and very exciting.

“I love going to Disney. I’m like a big kid,” he added.

Beyoncé appears as “Alice in Wonderland,” twirling in a teacup, accompanied by Oliver Platt as the Mad Hatter and Lyle Lovett as the March Hare.

“It’s two great imaginations coming together—Disney and Annie Leibovitz,” said Lovett. “To be along for the ride really is quite something, just knowing that you’re going to be part of a great Disney Character. And then when you step into the imagination of Annie Leibovitz, you know you’re in another world.”

Befitting a true princess, Scarlett Johansson appears as Cinderella wearing a stunning, one-of-a-kind Harry Winston tiara—a dazzling piece in platinum with more than 62 carats of sparkling diamonds valued at $325,000.

The dress worn by Johansson is a custom-made, Cinderella-inspired gown designed by Nicoletta Santoro.

Since Cinderella is the favorite princess of Annie Leibovitz’s 5-year-old daughter Sarah, this scene was one of Annie’s absolute must-haves.

Actual teacups from Disneyland® Park were shipped in to a field on Leibovitz’s farm in upstate New York for the shoot. Each weighed several hundred pounds and had to be put into position with a forklift.
Passholder family’s dreams come true in Disney Dreams Giveaway*

Sam was here to celebrate her 16th birthday with friends and family. “Walt Disney World is pretty much my favorite place to be on vacation,” she told us.

But what she didn’t know was how The Year of a Million Dreams celebration would fulfill her dreams in an even bigger way.

When the Scutellaro family, Disney Passholders from Brick, New Jersey, got off The Great Movie Ride, a not-so-inconspicuous group of photographers and Disney Cast Members were waiting to give Sam a free Walt Disney World return trip.

“I was like ‘wow,’ that’s awesome,” Sam told us.

But that was just the beginning. When Disney Cast Members heard that Sam was celebrating her “Sweet 16,” they ushered her entire group into a VIP room where they were joined by Mickey, Minnie, Chip and Dale holding a birthday cake.

And the next day proved equally memorable as Sam and friends Tara, Lisa and Irlice hopped onto a limousine to serve as grand marshals of the parade. “It was weird at first, but by the end, our hands hurt from waving so much.”

Dreams are coming true for Passholders like you.

A million extra-special dreams are now being randomly awarded, courtesy of the Disney Dreams Giveaway. Imagine hearing that you’ve been invited to enjoy a stay that night in the all-new Cinderella Castle Suite—in the heart of the Magic Kingdom Park. Once upon a time, at a Theme Park not far away...

In a match made in the intergalactic heavens, Disney magic once again will blend with Star Wars™ adventure during Star Wars Weekends every Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 1 to June 24! Each weekend, you can have a blast—from seeing Star Wars celebrities and characters to immersing yourself in far-out fun, all in the out-of-this-world settings of Disney-MGM Studios! And who wouldn’t want to experience it during the 30th anniversary of the Star Wars saga?

A rare chance to meet Star Wars characters and celebrities

Meet lots of characters, including Darth Vader, Anakin Skywalker, Princess Leia and even Chewbacca! See celebrities such as Kenny Baker (R2-D2), Ray Park (Darth Maul), Peter Mayhew (Chewbacca), Anthony Daniels (C-3PO) and more!

The celebrities will also be the focus of Legends of the Force: A Star Wars Celebrity Motorcade, as you cheer them on their journey down Hollywood Blvd! Some of them will also appear in person to answer questions—maybe from you—at Stars of the Saga, an exclusive talk show where you never know what behind-the-scenes facts you might discover!

Bring the kids to Jedi Training Academy

We’ve enlisted the galaxy’s most experienced Jedi Masters to bequeath the secrets of the Force and powerful skills to the lucky young warriors chosen for Jedi Training Academy, one of the most popular features of Star Wars™ Weekends. Within minutes, these pint-size Padawans will know all they need to wield lightsabers and defend the galaxy against contentious villains with a ruthless ambition for domination and destruction!

This anniversary year, there are rumors orbiting the planets that Jedi Training Academy may get even more exciting, if Darth Vader has anything to say about it! In addition, the young trainees will get some surprise guidance from...well, you’ll find out when you get there!

Give me those Star Wars, don’t let them end...

The fun is almost nonstop! You’ll be among the privileged few to see Behind the Force, a unique 20-minute, big-screen film presentation carefully selected and edited from over 1,000 hours of Lucasfilm footage!

And at the end of every Star Wars Weekends day, all the heroes, villains and miscellaneous creatures forget their differences when the dance music plays and the interplanetary par-tay begins at Hyperspace Hoopla, a freewheeling finale at the Star Tours Stage!

It’s going to be the greatest fun the galaxy has seen in light years!

YOU COULD WIN A STAR WARS PRIZE PACKAGE!

Visit disneyworld.com/passholder now and download your entry form for this exclusive Passholder sweepstakes. Fill it out and drop it off at the information table located by the Star Tours attraction during the Star Wars Weekends. You could be one of 30 winners of a fabulous prize package that includes a $50 gift card!
Disney Vacation Club

to open Disney’s Animal Kingdom Villas
And Passholders have a chance to win a two-night stay

Enter for a chance to win one of five two-night stays at Disney’s Animal Kingdom Villas and be one of the first to experience the newest Disney Vacation Club Resort.

Disney’s Animal Kingdom Villas will mix intricate, African-inspired details with home-like amenities. The views, however, will be quite different from anything you see at home. Most will offer sweeping views of an expanded savanna inhabited by a variety of African animals.

Featuring more than 450 rooms, the project will include Disney Vacation Club accommodations on the fifth and sixth floors of the existing Disney’s Animal Kingdom Lodge, as well as vacation homes scheduled to begin opening in early 2009 in the brand-new Kidani Village. The Resort also will feature a new Table-service restaurant, themed pool and interactive water-play area, fitness center, merchandise shop and sports-and-recreation facilities.

Plans call for the first phase to begin opening in fall 2007, with completion of the entire Resort scheduled for summer 2009.

YOUR CHANCE TO WIN!

Contest begins May 15. To enter for your chance to win, log on to disneyworld.com/passholders and look in the News & Events section of the site, or stop by any Disney Vacation Club information center located throughout Walt Disney World Theme Parks and Resorts and the Downtown Disney area.

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. VOID WHERE PROHIBITED BY LAW. Open to legal residents of the 50 United States and D.C., 18 years of age or older. Begins May 15, 2007, at 12:00:01 a.m. CT and ends on July 30, 2007, at 11:59:59 p.m. CT. Subject to official rules at disneyworld.com/passholder. Sponsored by Disney Vacation Development, Inc., 200 Celebration Place, Celebration, FL 34747 and administered by Promotion Activators, Inc., 1851 Elmdale Avenue, Glenview, IL 60025.

Eye-Teaser Quiz

How well do you know the Walt Disney World® Resort hotels? See if you can identify these images from around the Disney Resorts.

ANSWERS:

A. This 16-foot Ijele mask on display in the lobby of Disney's Animal Kingdom Lodge is the first of its kind ever to leave Nigeria.

B. This is one of 11 original maps of Florida that grace the lobby of Disney's Grand Floridian Resort & Spa. Dating from 1775 up to the period of railroad tycoon Henry M. Flagler's railway lines, these maps hang in the gallery located near the entrance to Victoria & Albert's.

C. The Hoop-Dee-Doo Revue is performed nightly in Pioneer Hall at Disney's Fort Wilderness Resort & Campground. It's now the longest-running live stage show currently in production.

D. This is one of the giant Coca-Cola® cup icons at Home Run Hotel at Disney's All-Star Sports Resort. It would take more than 20 million 12-ounce cans of soda to fill just one of them.

E. This miniature carousel located in the lobby of Disney's BoardWalk Inn was hand-crafted in the 1920s at Coney Island by M.C. Illions, a master designer and manufacturer of merry-go-rounds.

F. No, this isn't the latest fashion accessory. It's the handsome bracelet that allows Guests of select Walt Disney World Resort hotels to enjoy Disney's Extra Magic Hours Benefit. Each day, one of the Disney Theme Parks opens an hour early or stays open up to an extra three hours after regular Park closing for Disney Resort Guests, giving you easy access to some of our most popular attractions!
