MONSTERS UNIVERSITY

FROM THE DESK OF:
DR. A. HARDCRABBLE
DEAN, SCHOOL OF SCARING

To Professor Derek Knight:

Our hallowed institution has been asked to investigate a culturally significant artifact from the human world. It is known as "Mickey Monitor" and I believe it to contain vital information about a consortium of humans quite adept at producing a variety of screams. They are called "Passholders."

This precious item, which was inadvertently transported to Monstropolis, singularly delves into the core of scariness. Be advised that the CDA has detoxified it thoroughly to make it available for our students.

I believe that these rare documents might provide keen insight into the very nature of scaring. Please see that your students analyze them thoroughly. As I have said many times to you, scariness is the true measure of a monster.

Regards,

Dr. A. Hardscrabble

Scream-Finding Technology
by James P. Sullivan

"Instead of just letting screams happen, 'Passholders' are using new technology that lets them set up their screams in advance. Must-do screams are reserved ahead of time—probably due to some concerns about energy management."

Summer Guide to Disney Resort Pools

One of the best parts about staying at a Walt Disney World® Resort hotel during the summer is the pools! To help our Passholders prepare for their summer visit, we got our toes wet and created this handy pool guide:

'BEST POOL FOR KIDS'

Hippy Dippy Pool
Disney's Pop Century Resort

A playground filled with fun fountains, squirting flowers and classic Disney Characters makes the Hippy Dippy Pool a paradise for kids of all ages.

'SANDIEST POOL'

Stormalong Bay
Disney's Yacht & Beach Club Resorts

A private sand-bottom bay and long lazy river make Stormalong Bay a relaxed oasis for beach lovers.

'MOST ADVENTUROUS POOL'

Fuentes Del Morro
Disney's Caribbean Beach Resort

This Spanish seaside fortress is a splash with pirate lovers and Passholders seeking adventure. But beware the pirate's cannons, yar!

Only Guests of the Walt Disney World Resort hotels may use the hotel pools. See Passholder resort offer for summer stays included in this issue.

'BIGGEST HOT TUB'

The Dig Site
Disney's Coronado Springs Resort

Play in one of three pools—Casitas, Ranchos and Cabanas—and relax in the largest hot tub on Walt Disney World® Resort property.

Bubbling hot springs and hot tubs provide ideal coverage for "pop-up-and-surprise" screams.

'BEST WATERSLIDE'

Nanea Volcano Pool
Disney's Polynesian Resort

This zero-entry pool features towering waterfalls and a volcano that doubles as a 142-foot waterslide.

'MOST LUXURIOUS POOL'

Uzima Springs Pool
Disney's Animal Kingdom Lodge

This savanna oasis is home to one of the most luxurious pools on property. If you keep an eye out, you may even spy an animal or two.

'BIGGEST POOL'

Big Blue Pool
Disney's Art of Animation Resort

Play with Nemo and his friends at the biggest pool at a Walt Disney World Resort hotel. And don't forget to duck your head underwater for a special message.

The Correlation Between Screams and Pools
by Mike Wazowski

It appears human children and "Passholders" are most fond of pools during the hot summer months. Perhaps these pools provide some sort of detoxification. After an analysis of the evidence, I conclude that there's ample scream-collecting opportunities at these locations.

The Power of Arrrrrrrrrgh
By Scott "Squishy" Squibbles

"The human pirate culture has its own unique scream called Arrrrrrrrrgh. Evidently the promise of high seas adventure causes a subject to produce this noise over and over again. I believe that the 'Passholder' was uniquely expert at producing this sound, given the high quantity of pirate training they received."

Join Captain Jack's Crew on a Magic Kingdom® Quest

Think you have it in you to seek out treasure and take on the threat of an evil curse or band of headhunters—and scream "Arrrrrrrgh" through it all? You'll soon find out! Beginning in early summer, you can take part in A Pirate's Adventure: Treasures of the Seven Seas, an interactive adventure where Guests participate in pirate raids throughout Adventureland®. Pirate maps lead to fabulous treasures, as Guests fight off the Royal Navy, Captain Barbossa, headhunters, curses and more.

"We're bringing even more adventure to Adventureland," said Walt Disney Imagineering Show Producer Jonathan Ackley. And since there are multiple missions involved in this experience, Passholders are bound to agree.

The adventure begins at the Enlistment Quarters where you join Captain Jack Sparrow's crew and collect a treasure map. Each adventure is divided into five different raids, comprised of a series of interactive tasks. "Pirates face many, many dangers," Jonathan told us. "So you'll have a magic talisman to help you. At one point, you may have to fire a warning shot to send a signal to the other pirates in the area. Touching the talisman to a magic rune lets you fire a cannon and send your warning. At which point the dark spirits of pirate magic will send you a message, and that will tell you the next location to go to on your map—until you've found the treasure." Passholders should be particularly excited with the premise.

"The number one constituents for these longer play games are our Passholders," Jonathan said. "An adventure like this takes them to areas of the Park that maybe they've never been before."

- A. Appearance: Is there an overall tone of fright in the presentation of the work?
- B. Scream Timbre: What is the overall tone of the induced scream? Is it emotionally appropriate to the material?
- C. Originality: Are the screams induced through the use of novel methods. How are we pushing the envelope

Backstage at the Sounds Like Summer Concert Series

How one band is "gearing up" for this monster music event

Joe Cumia is excited. His favorite Epcot® attraction—Test Track® Presented by Chevrolet®—is newly re-imagined and reopened. "And I am so looking forward to it," says the founder and lead guitarist ("The Edge") of 2U, the U2 tribute band playing the Sounds Like Summer Concert Series at Epcot®.

Turns out, Cumia is just as much an Epcot® fan as the rest of us. We spoke with him by phone as the band drove to a gig in Falls Church, Virginia. And covered a little musical ground as well.

MM: What do you enjoy most about the event?

Joe Cumia: It really comes down to the music. We pay a whole lot of attention to what it sounds like, first and foremost. And we dig deep into the catalog, even playing songs that U2 themselves have never played live.

MM: What can our Passholders expect?

Joe Cumia: We play three times a day at Epcot®, but do a uniquely new set every time. We may play "Sunday Bloody Sunday" in two of the sets, but not in the same order as the previous set or the previous day. Plus, we do requests. That brings people back, because they know we're not going to do the same thing every day.

MM: So do you get to take in the Parks in your free time?

Joe Cumia: We do a lot of work surrounding the performances, but whenever we get a chance we do go to the Parks. I've taken family members to see IllumiNations. It feels like you almost get inside the fireworks. You can really feel the heat when the globe opens. It's crazy.

MM: What do you enjoy most about Walt Disney World® Resort?

Joe Cumia: Everything about it is outstanding. They treat us like rock stars. How can you not like it? The happiest place on the face of the earth.
